HALIFAX REGIONAL SCHOOL BOARD
Re-naming of St. Patrick's High School – August 2007

PURPOSE: To receive Board approval to rename the St. Patrick's High School building in August 2007.

BACKGROUND: In September 2007, Citadel High School will open. This means that St. Patrick's High School and Queen Elizabeth High will no longer be used as high schools.

CONTENT: The Education Act S. 92 (2) stipulates:

The school boards shall notify the municipalities when land and buildings owned by the municipalities are no longer required for the purposes of the school boards.

There are a number of programs currently being offered in both Queen Elizabeth and St. Patrick's which require accommodation when Citadel High opens. These programs can be accommodated in the St. Patrick's High School building.

In order to establish this site as a multi-use building, we are requesting to retire the name of St. Patrick's High School from this facility and to rename this building the Quinpool Education Centre.

We have consulted with the Department of Education and the Transportation and Public Works and they are confident that Citadel High School will be ready by July 15, 2007.

COST: Signage - $3000

FUNDING: Within Operation Services Budget

TIMELINE: Late July- Early August 2007

APPENDICES: N/A

RECOMMENDATIONS: That the Board approve the renaming of the St. Patrick's High School building to the Quinpool Education Centre.
